

UESM Newsletter: ENVIRA

Guidelines to Authors

ENVIRA is a quarterly digital Newsletter of the Unit for Environmental Sciences and Management (UESM). ENVIRA has been established to communicate and hence, to archive the highlights related to research, training and community outreach activities and achievements within the UESM. The targeted community of readers of ENVIRA is extremely broad. For this reason, we publish short pieces, written in the layman's language to serve readers from across South Africa and abroad.

Note that there are specific guidelines for each section. Please adhere to these guidelines to avoid disappointment.

Contents:

8. Research Articles (News Flash Articles)

(Please submit your written articles or summaries directly to the editors, Frances Siebert and Clarissa Minnaar via Envira.Newsletter@gmail.com.)

1. Accolades

Submit a summary of any recent academic achievement to the editors and research director for possible inclusion in the next issue. A summary, which provides background to the award/achievement should be written in a Word document, with a maximum word count of 100 words. A link to a Website / Award Letter must be provided (any other relevant links such may also be submitted – see below).

Please note that, although the editors are notified about achievements, it remains the responsibility of the achiever to submit a short summary to be considered for publication in the next edition of ENVIRA.

Guidelines for submission:

Header word count:	Max. 20
Body word count:	Max. 100
Number of photos:	Min. 3
	All photos should be accompanied by a short caption.
Relevant links:	Website / Award Letter
	Any other links e.g. YouTube / Poster / Article / Presentation

Research articles reflect on recent research results or upcoming research that are current and relevant, such as early findings from a research team, or how researchers from the UESM contributed to an improved understanding of a complex global environmental issue. We encourage articles that are based on published work, but summarised in a less scientific way that will lead to an easy read to all ENVIRA readers.

We want to step away from long, detailed articles in the newsletter, since the overall aim of ENVIRA is to provide a 'news flash' where members of the UESM are being exposed to current interesting research highlights emerging from the unit. Should the news article be based upon a published item, the link to that publication should be included for those who wish to read the more detailed paper.

News Flash articles should focus on research stories with very little, if any, reference to people.

Guidelines for submission:

Author names:	Max. 3 We prefer a short list of authors
Author research groups:	Written out along with the acronym
Title word count:	Max. 15 Try making your title concise, attractive, and 'catchy'
